ver the winter wheat country, and fears of further The decrease in the visible supply, 1,336,000 bushels, was much greater than was looked for. But everything else was lost sight of in the consideration of thing else was lost sight of in the consideration of the news relating to the crisis between the United States and Spain. Reports that Spain had accepted suggestions of this government in regard to Cuba and the tone of the president's message to congress started a buying demand that increased in volume as the seasion wore on and did not cease until the closing bell sounded. Shorts of every description were driven to cover, and investment buying, which has been almost totally lacking for some time, was in evidence. Haif an hour from the close July had advanced. 107,000 b 154's. Realizing was quite heavy at this point, and the price reacted to Size, but rebounded again very shortly. The close was strong at 84c bid. May was traded in very little. It opened \( \frac{1}{2} \) fower at $1.03'\( \frac{1}{2} \), but advanced at once to $1.04'\( \frac{1}{2} \), and during the activity in July sold up as high as $1.05'\( \frac{1}{2} \). It closed at $1.05'\( \frac{1}{2} \), it closed at $1.05'\( \frac{1}{2} \).

On was fairly active and firm with the exception of a short time after the opening, when some decline took piace, in symathy with wheat. The raily in wheat and the unfavorable character of the weather turned the market very strong later, shorts leading the buying. May ranced from 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) to 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) (25\(\frac{1}{2}\). On the ware heavily raided during the morning by all classes of longs. Liquidation was general and prices broke sharply. The market reacted when the turn came in wheat and corn, but the recovery was only to previous prices. Shipping demand was slow. May ranged from 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) (25\(\frac{1}{2}\), and closed a shade lower at 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) (25\(\frac{1}{2}\), and closed a shade lower at 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) (25\(\frac{1}{2}\), and closed a shade lower at 25\(\frac{1}{2}\) (25\(\frac{1}{2}\). Provisions, like everything else, were weak during the first part of the session. Heavy hog receipts and talk of yellow fever possibilities in the South resulted in mild liquidation and a decline in prices, but the market very easily recovered on the more favorable Washington news and the railies in grain. At the close May pork was 12\(\frac{1}{2}\) chigher at $3.50\(\frac{1}{2}\). Betimated receipts Tuesday: Wheat, 120 cars; corn,

New York, March 28.-The week in dry goods open under unsatisfactory conditions. Throughout the day there was little store trading, and the mail orders received were very few and of meager proportions. The price situation in cotton goods is no brighter than recently. The low price of print cloths and their duliness has had an exceedingly depressing effect on all lines of staple goods. Staple cottons in Cotton.

An active and somewhat firmer market was had yesterday The receipts were fair without being large, and mostly made up of lambs. They met with a ready sale and the best grades were 5c higher. Stronger markets east of us encouraged buyers and caused them to bid up well for everything and to pay a little more money for the best offerings.

Chicago, March 22.—CATTLE—Receipts, 16,000. Business in cattle was active, and a stronger market was witnessed from opening to the close. Even the numerous droves of half fat cattle moved off at steady prices, and owners of fat cattle found quick sales at unsatisfactory figures. Beef steem sold on a basis of $3.55\text{4.20}$ for the commonest to $5.59 for prime to extra cattle, the greater part selling at $4.40\text{6.50}$. lot, there being the usual scarcity of strictly choice lost. Stockers and feeders ranged from $3.55 to $5.00 for common to best. Caives were in good demand at a wide range of prices, beet grades bringing $5.50 $6.50, commoner grades going for $4.0066.00.

HOGS-Receipts, $3,000. Heavy receipts of hogs forced prices lower, and sales were at a further deciline. Common to prime droves of hogs sold at $1.00 $62.85, the greater part selling at $2.7562.82½. The range in prices is narrower than at any time for a month past, and light and heavy hogs now sell close together. To-day's drop was about 10c in heavy and 5c in light.

togener. 10-may a drop was assist for in leavy and it in light. SHEEP—Receipts, 18,000. Trade was lively at strong prices. Choice lambs were scarce, and sold up to $5.85, an advance of 25c, and sellers had some Colorados for $4.90. The commonest lambs sold at $4.40. sheep sold at $3.50$2.75 and yearlings at $4.50$5.10, sheep going largely at $4.35$4.60 and lambs selling largely at high prices.

anta Fe and Rock Island Will Go Back to the Old System After April 1 - Orders Received

From Headquarters.

It was announced late last evening that the feed in transit privilege would be re-stored by the Santa Fe and Rock Island railroads after April 1. The general live stock agents of these roads here were noti-fied from Chicago that their roads had defied from Chicago that their roads had decided to restore these privileges, and the Texas and trans-Missouri lines had been notified. This will be hailed with general satisfaction throughout the Southwest, and is a just concession to the Western cattle trade, and one that cannot fail of appreciation by the Southern and far Southwest cattle shippers, who sell many cattle for grazing and feeding nearer market. With these roads, that handle three-fourths of the cattle business, committed to this policy, it is only a question of time when the other roads will be forced to adopt a similar policy or relinquish the cattle trade to these roads.

Colonel Albert Dean, of the bureau of animal industry, received notice yesterday of the change of the government quarantine line in California, including the whole state and instructing him to send an additional inspector there. He at once assigned Dr. R. P. Steddom to that field, and he left last evening for San Francisco, where he will co-operate with the state board of health in watching over the movements of cattle in that state.

Mr. Daniels, of North Carolina, and Homer Hill, of New Orleans, are among the newcomers here after horses and mules. The quarantine country continues to send some pretty good cattle to market. J. P. Addington, of Chickasha, I. T., had here yesterday forty-seven fed Texas steers of his own feeding that averaged 1,151 pounds, and 165 fed Texas steers averaged 1,179 pounds and that were sold by Campbell, Hunt & Adams at 34.50 and 44.57 respectively, the higest prices of the day in the Texas division.

The bad foreign markets are showing themselves upon the market here. There were only 391 cattle taken here last week for the export.

C. H. Cable, of Brownsville, Ore., is on a vissit here to his brother, M. M. Cable. Packers' purchases here last week were: Cattle, 13,112: hogs, 59,151, and sheep, 14,551, against, cattle, 13,677: hogs, 46,396, and sheep, 21,965 same week last year.

Evertson, Bros., Melvern Kan., were a yesterday with hogs. A. B. Lawrence, of Wynnewood, I. T., arrived her Noah Laei brought hogs and cattle up rom Wynnewood, L T. Hocker & Woods brought cattle and ho day from Purcell, I. T. James Doyle and Frank Slavens were here from Bellevue, Kas., yesterday with cattle.

J. F. Dunn and F. J. Dust, Stockton, Kas., had hogs and cattle at the yards yesterday.

The Reporter's Blunder. From the Cleveland Leader.

"Here," said the city editor to the new reporter; "there's something wrong about this story of the murder."

"What is it?" the new man asked.

"I don't know what it is, but there's something the matter with it. I've read it through twice and can't make it out."

"I said 'the murderer struck the deadly blow with some blunt instrument,' didn't I?"

"Year, thet's here all sight." From the Cleveland Leader.

"Yes; that's here, all right."
"Did I say there were evidences of a deadly struggle?"
"Yes, you've got that in three times."
"Well. I can't imagine what it is that I've omitted. I remember saying that the 'murderer stole upon his victim like a cat approaches a mouse,' so that can't be what you've missed."

The city editor scratched his head and took another hasty glance at the copy.
"By jove!" he exclaimed, "I've got it. You didn't say 'he was felled like an ox!"
Then the new reporter slunk away know. Then the new reporter slunk away,knowing that he had committed a blunder which could be offset only by years of good work.
